Topic of Presentation - Predictable Non-surgical Endodontic Retreatment

Abstract:

Non-surgical endodontic retreatment offers a second chance for previously treated teeth that have failed. Yet, it can be a daunting experience for clinicians who are faced with a new set of unpredictable challenges. Fortunately, with comprehensive treatment planning and recent advances in endodontics, we are able to enhance the predictability of endodontic retreatment. This lecture aims to explore strategies to overcome these obstacles with evidence based approaches and sharing of clinical cases.

Objectives :

- Understand reasons for endodontic failure
- Assessment of suitability and foreseeing challenges
- Possible complications during retreatment and prevention
- Recent advances that aid endodontic retreatment
